The water question is one of the greatest importance to this valley and city. It would seem to us that instead of wrangling over a mooted question as to whether or not the grazing of the forest reserves has anything to do with the constantly decreasing water supply of the valley, our people should make a united stand for more water through federal storage. Water development is what is needed, and this seems the only way to get enough of the life giving fluid for the parched land of the valley. A movement in this direction, made in a manner as determined as is that centered against the grazing privileges would do a world of good and in a direction where real results might be accomplished. This is the bungle of the situation, while the matter at issue now can be compared to the spigot.—Stockman.

Mr. GIFFORD PINCHOT, forester of the department of agriculture, and Mr. F. V. Coville, botanist of the same department, will leave Washington for the west about May 15th, to make a personal investigation of the problem of grazing in the forest reserves. A plan for an exhaustive investigation by the government was published a few weeks ago; but the tour of these officials will be the first actual work in the field.

They will be met at Holbrook Arizona, by a committee consisting of A. F. Potter, of that city, who is secretary of the Arizona wool growers' association, and a representative of the cattle and irrigation interests from the Salt river valley. They will spend three weeks in the Black Mesa reserve and then visit others in Arizona. The examination will be extended to other western reserves later in the summer.

Mr. J. E. Park was the choice of the people as representative of the people of this valley, but owing to his recent departure for Nome another will doubtless be appointed in his place.—Stockman.

THE Albuquerque Journal-Democrat says, in speaking of the grazing resolution passed by the Arizona Territorial convention: "The matter is one that affects both Arizona and New Mexico, and affects the interests of both very seriously. Wool growing is one of the most valuable industries of either territory, and the privilege of grazing sheep in the forest reserves is a matter of the very highest importance to the success of this industry, while the allegation that it injures the agricultural industry, by reducing the water supply, is without any valid foundation. Sheep have grazed in the forests of this country for centuries without doing anything to injure the growth of timber, and the animals are not likely to do any more harm in the future than they have done in the past. The danger to the timber in Arizona as well as in New Mexico, is from fires, that run through the underbrush, and if there is any truth in the charge that the sheep tramp out a portion of this brush, the effect would be to improve the forests rather than to injure them. The question is one that bears directly upon the interests of the people of both territories, and therefore a very proper one to be considered by political conventions."

W. S. Musser, Millheim, Pa., saved the life of his little girl by giving her One Minute Cough Cure when she was dying from croup. It is the only harmless remedy that gives immediate results. It quickly cures coughs, colds, bronchitis, grippe, asthma and all throat and lung troubles. F. J. Watron.

E. G. Siggers, patent lawyer, Washington, D. C., reports the following patents granted to inventors in the Territories, May 1, 1900: I. L. Baker, Colgate, Ind. Ter., neck yoke attachment; C. J. Beauvais, Phoenix, Ariz., range finder; O. F. Scott, Anderson, Okla. Ter., windmill; P. Uto, Tonkawa, Okla. Ter., tire tightener.

The ancients believed that rheumatism was the work of a demon within a man. Any one who has had an attack of sciatic or inflammatory rheumatism will agree that the inflection is demonic enough to warrant the belief. It has never been claimed that Chamberlain's Pain Balm would cast out demons, but it will cure rheumatism, and hundreds bear testimony to the truth of this statement. One application relieves the pain, and this quick relief which it affords is alone worth many times its cost. For sale by F. J. Watron.

The delegates from Northern Arizona were fair and intelligent men and representative men of that section of Arizona. They went to the convention with no political fight to make on any man or set of men. The one supreme effort put forth was to clearly define the line of battle on the forest reserve question. This is no political question with the Northern Arizona people. It is their homes for which they are fighting. The fight being made on the people of Northern Arizona by the people of Southern Arizona is one of pure ignorance. This fight is being led in Southern Arizona by some of the cattlemen, presidents of the "watered stock irrigation companies" of the Salt River valley, and a few unscrupulous politicians of Southern Arizona. The farmers, through their ignorance of the question, are being made accessories to the unjust fight by reason of their want of knowledge of the drainage and general geographical features of Northern Arizona. There is no drainage from this section into the Salt river. All the drainage is into the Colorado river. Unscrupulous men have succeeded in getting about everything in this section made into a reserve; striking a death blow at some of the most vital industries of this section. Now they wish to take the last one and stop grazing in a section that is good for nothing else under the sun. Men who have civilized the country and spent their money and brains in developing the country, are now to be placed in even a worse condition than the Indians. About all that is necessary for the "dear" government to do further, after acting on the advice of a few selfish and ignorant fanatics, is to take one more step in the interests of these fanatics, led by the designers, and then ship in a supply of "G" strings.

The people of Northern Arizona have stood this dictation from outside politicians to that point where "patience has ceased to be a virtue." The people of this section realize the profits to be accrued by reciprocity between Northern and Southern Arizona, but if the people of Southern Arizona will not have it Northern Arizona can live and get along quite as handsomely without the aid of her southern brothers. The putting through of the resolution was in accordance with the will of all the people of Northern Arizona, and the actions of the delegates have the support of all in this section regardless of politics.—Williams News.

Glorious News

Comes from Dr. D. B. Cargile, of Washita, I. T. He writes: "Four bottles of Electric Bitters has cured Mrs. Brewer of scrofula, which has caused her great suffering for years. Terrible sores would break out on her head and face, and the best doctors could give no help; but her cure is complete and her health is excellent." This shows what thousands have proved,—that Electric Bitters is the best blood purifier known. It's the supreme remedy for eczema, tetter, salt rheum, ulcers, boils and running sores. It stimulates liver, kidneys and bowels, expels poisons, helps digestion, builds up the strength. Only 50 cents. Sold by F. J. Watron, Druggist, Guarantee!

After all it is a good advertisement for Canada that there should have been $20,000,000 worth of property destroyed in one of her smaller cities.

"After suffering from severe dyspepsia over twelve years and using many remedies without permanent good I finally took Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It did me so much good I recommend it to everyone," writes J. E. Watkins, clerk and recorder, Chillicothe, Mo. It digests what you eat. F. J. Watron.

The Republicans acted promptly in passing an act amendatory of the Porto Rican bill, correcting certain omissions and errors which it was impossible to catch in the hurry of passing the original bill. The island now has as liberal and well organized a government as any country in the world.

A FOLLOWER OF MEASLES.—In many instances a persistent cough follows an attack of measles. In speaking of this Mr. Walter B. Beel, editor of the Elkin, (N. C.) Times, says, "Three weeks ago I had an attack of measles which left me with a bad cough. I took several doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the cough has entirely disappeared. I consider Chamberlain's medicine the best on the market." For sale by F. J. Watron.

H. A. Pease is greatly improving the appearance of the Holbrook Argus. He is a first-class newspaper man, and will make the Argus one of the best weekly newspapers in Arizona.—Albuquerque Daily Citizen.

C. O. Anderson has sold his paper, the Holbrook Argus, to H. A. Pease, formerly of Wisconsin. The paper appears this week as a 6 column "all home" print. In his introduction Mr. Pease announces that politically the Argus will represent the principles of the Republican party.—Cocoonino Sun.

The Holbrook Argus has changed hands and the first number under the editorship of H. A. Pease, late of Amery, Wis., is a bright, newsy and ably edited paper. We wish it a very successful career, and as we know Mr. Pease's ability of old, we are sure it will be.—Gallup Gleaner.

The Holbrook Argus, one of our brightest exchanges, has changed hands.—Mr. C. O. Anderson retiring and H. A. Pease, late of Wisconsin, succeeding him in the publication of that paper. The first number by Mr. Pease shows that he is an all-around newspaper man. We wish him unbounded success in his new field of labor. Mr. Anderson, the retiring editor, also has our best wishes.—Flagstaff Gem.

About a week ago it was announced in these columns that a deal was in progress for the purchase of the Range News by C. O. Anderson, who has edited the Argus at Holbrook. The last issue of the Argus announces the retirement of Mr. Anderson from that paper, Mr. H. A. Pease, a Republican journalist from Wisconsin, having purchased it. Mr. Pease makes a courteous bow and asks for a slice of the new universal prosperity.—Republican.

The Argus has changed hands. Mr. Anderson, the retiring editor, we are glad to see, will not be lost to Arizona journalism, as he will take charge of the Range News at Wilcox. Mr. Pease, who started on the Argus with last week's issue, is an experienced newspaper man from Wisconsin. We have not yet learned whether Mr. Dunlap, of the News, intends embarking in newspaper work elsewhere. The Argus and the News have been among our most highly valued exchanges and we wish the retiring editors and the incoming editors Good Luck.—St. John Herald.
